

Elevate Your Home's Efficiency

Elevate Energy provides no cost energy efficiency home improvements to qualified homeowners in the City of Chicago's Micro Market Recovery Program (MMRP) Target Areas. The energy efficiency upgrades make homes more comfortable, reduce energy bills, and improve indoor air quality. The upgrades may even increase home values.

Income-qualified homeowners will have access to a forgivable loan of up to $8,000 to cover the cost of the recommended home improvements. The most common energy efficiency improvements are attic insulation and air-sealing (blocking areas where heated or cooled air leaves the house). Funding for the forgivable loan is made possible through a federal grant to the City of Chicago.

How the Program Works

Elevate Energy has helped hundreds of homeowners improve their buildings and reduce high utility bills, with the important added benefits of strengthening communities and keeping housing affordable.

4. Do you have current homeowners insurance?

5. Do you intend to stay in the home for at least 5 years after receiving energy efficiency improvements? To ensure this program benefits homeowners committed to staying in the community, the City of Chicago requires a portion of the cost of the efficiency improvements to be paid back if the home is sold within 5 years. If you plan to stay in your home for at least 5 years, you will not have to pay for any of the efficiency improvements.
